Allowable Subject Matter

1. Claims 52-78 and 93-97 are allowed.
2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The prior art does not teach that, a cavity that extends through the first electrode and the dielectric layer, wherein the plurality of discharge devices are electrically connected together and when a minimum voltage sufficient to cause discharge of at least 10 of the devices in the plurality of discharge devices is applied, then a voltage difference between the first and second electrode at every cavity of the at least 10 devices has a voltage difference of no more than 20% of an average voltage difference between the first and second electrodes of the at least 10 devices in combination with all limitations recited in independent claim 1.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Detemple et al (US 6,194,833) and Schoenbach et al. (US 5,939,829) are cited to show a discharge device.
